RE: Cape Wind air quality certificate

Dear Mr. McCahill:

Thank you for this opportunity to comment on the Cape Wind air quality certificate. I ask that the EPA learn from it's past mistakes to avoid the destruction of archaeological treasures in the location of Nantucket Sound deemed eligible for listing to the National Register of Historic Places. Please comply with with Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act in relationship to consultation with federally recognized Tribes opposed to Cape Wind.

The National Historic Preservation Act established the ACHP. ACHP is the only entity with the legal responsibility to encourage federal agencies to factor historic preservation into federal project requirements.

The ACHP recommended that Secretary Salazar deny Cape Wind, and the Secretary ignored the ACHP and approved Cape Wind.

The Tribes are the authority on the Nantucket Sound Tribal Cultural Property subject issues, and they recommend Salazar deny Cape Wind (more than 25 Federally Recognized Tribes), and Secretary Salazar ignored the Tribes:

The State Historic Preservation Officer's SHPO findings favor the Tribes against Cape Wind:

The National Parks Service and the Keeper uphold the SHPO findings that favor the Tribes against Cape Wind:

The National Trust for Historic Preservation findings support Mass Historic Commission MHC's opinion, and National Park's Service's determination of Nantucket Sound's National Register eligibility based on information provided by the authority on these matters, the Tribes, and National Trust rejects Cape Wind.

Noting the extraordinary leap of faith on the part of the largest assembly in the history of our nation of Native American's, President Obama made a promise to have meaningful consultation with Tribes. "Today's conference is not lip service" stated our President, the adopted son of the Crow:

President Obama and Secretary Salazar, however, honored Limited Liability Corporations over treaties with Tribes when they approved Cape Wind.

Please conduct proper Section 106 Consultation with federally recognized Tribes and recognize their Sacred Land in a meaningful way. Prevent the Cape Wind project from destroying their ancients' remains.
