

NATIONAL WORKSHOP ON WATER QUALITY MARKETS at the University of Nebraska - Lincoln

SEPTEMBER 15 – 17, 2015

WHAT: USDA and EPA are cosponsoring a National Workshop on Water Quality Markets. The Workshop will highlight recent progress in water quality trading across the country with an emphasis on policy, resources, and tool development. The Workshop will provide EPA and USDA with an opportunity to lay out their vision for the role of water quality markets in advancing conservation and water quality goals, and provide you with the tools to engage in water quality markets.

The Workshop will feature:

- Regional water quality trading forums
- Conservation finance opportunities
- Stormwater trading
- Payments for watershed services programs and other related environmental markets
- Recent developments in Economics, Science & Technology
- And much more

WHEN & WHERE: The Workshop is scheduled for September 15 - 17, and will be hosted by the Robert B. Daugherty Water for Food Institute at the University of Nebraska.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND: Agriculture and water resource professionals; including Federal, State and Local government representatives, NGOs, and agricultural, business and environmental stakeholders interested in water quality and environmental markets.

WEBSITE & REGISTRATION: <http://www.conservationfund.org/resources/courses-and-events/1036-epa-usda-national-workshop-on-water-quality-markets>

Please direct all questions and requests for additional information to
OEM@oce.usda.gov

