

Americans with Disabilities Act

Anne Hoogstraten

Anne Hoogstraten is the supervisory attorney and team leader for the Disability Rights Team in the U.S. Department of Education's Office for Civil Rights, Program Legal Group. She and her team work on policy issues concerning the federal civil rights of students with disabilities, both at the elementary and secondary education level and the postsecondary education level. Anne joined ED/OCR in 1989 as a staff attorney and has concentrated on disability rights since that time. She received her J.D. from Georgetown University Law Center and her B.A. from Wesleyan University in Middletown, CT.
