Thurston Manufacturing Company Synthetic Minor Source Permit PERMIT R7-TMNSR-FY16-001

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Region 7 (EPA) is announcing its decision to issue a synthetic minor source permit in accordance with the provisions of the Clean Air Act (CAA) and the Federal Minor New Source Review Program in Indian Country, 40 CFR 49.151 - 49.161, to Thurston Manufacturing Company. The source is located at 1708 H Avenue, Thurston, Nebraska.

The EPA prepared a draft permit and held a public comment period from February 12, 2016 to April 12, 2016. During the public comment period, one commenter provided comments. The EPA changed the permit in response to the comments. After consideration of Thurston Manufacturing Company's completed permit application, the pertinent federal statutes and regulations, the comments received, and additional material considered in response to comments and contained in our Administrative Record, the EPA has made a decision to issue the final permit.

The final permit, technical support document and other key documents relevant to the final permit are available online at: https://www.epa.gov/caa-permitting/status-tribal-air-permits-region-7. The final permit will be effective on October 21, 2016, which is a delayed effective date to provide time for public notice of this final permit decision.

Under the CAA regulations at 40 CFR 49.159(d), any person who commented on the specific terms and conditions of the proposed permit may petition the Environmental Appeals Board (EAB) to review any term or condition of the permit. A person who failed to file comments may also petition for review, but only as specified in said CAA regulation. In accordance with the regulation at 40 CFR 49.159(d) (2), EPA is specifying that the 30-day period within which a person may request review begins September 20, 2016.

A lot of gravel was lost, and a culvert during one of the last storms, and will be declaring a disaster for the county, have been working on the continuity of operations for the courthouse.

Bullet Beaudette gave the roads report. Bullet told the board that they have replaced a culvert north of Al Ruges, they have poured the concrete on the Cooney bridge, told the board that next summer he would like to fix the three bridges on the old Rosalie highway, and would like to make them all 28' wide, one-quarter mile south of 13th and C - there are two side by side culverts, one is kinked and instead of trying to fix them, would like to tear them out and replace with one seven-footer. Burt County is in the process of wanting to close a road on the county line.

Paul Richards, representative of the Burt County Veterans Committee, spoke to the board regarding providing health insurance for the Veterans Service Officer that Thurston County shares with Burt County.

The board discussed the salaried employees and the new law that says they must make $47,476.00 per year, or be paid by the hour and not a salary and how they would handle the employees that this will effect.

Chairman English opened the budget hearing at 10:25 a.m. No one appeared in favor or against the proposal. Budget Authority Tasha Breitbarth gave an overview of the budget document. The budget hearing was closed at 10:38 a.m.

Nebraska territory 'without a good barn' in in the 1860s in this Territory," asked the Nebraska Farmer in December 1861. "In all of the Middle States, even among the very first settlers, a barn was considered indispensable by every farmer. Farmers, from New York and Pennsylvania, who emigrated to the then Far West, built a good barn before they had a comfortable house. But here, no matter where the emigrant is from, he never thinks of building a barn. Yet barns are just as important here as anywhere else.

We have not yet seen a good barn in this (Nebraska) Territory. We have been told that Mr. Strong has one in the southern part of this county (Nemaha); and we are also informed that there are one or two in Cass County, but as a general thing, there are no barns here. The reasons are the scarcity of timber and the high price of lumber, and the want of sufficient capital on the part of our farmers.

"One great calamity in this Territory is that so many came here who are not able to carry on the business of a farm in a manner to be profitable. Another trouble is they try to farm too much land, thus depriving themselves of all money for improvements, and for stocking their farms. The consequence is that one half of our farmers are scarcely able to procure the necessities of life for themselves and families. They are barely able to 'make ends meet' and are constantly harassed, like a 'toad under a barrow,' until life is almost a burden.

"They are always compelled

"Why is it there are no barns to work to a disadvantage. Their crops are improperly 'put in,' and still worse harvested. They must be content with a 'three-rail fence,' and lose a portion of their crop by their neighbor's or their own stock. They lose a fourth of their wheat by its getting wet in the stack; and when threshed, the machines they employ, beside the customary toll, in many instances, wasted one fourth of the balance.

They are not able to stock their farms but are necessitated to sell their grain when the market is the lowest - if corn sells but for 10 cents a bushel, they must exchange it for clothing for their children.

"Many of this class will never be able to live in a better style, unless a very fortunate year should 'give them a lift.' It would be nonsense to advise such to 'build a barn.' It would be a physical impossibility for them to do it. 'Blood cannot be extracted from a turnip.' But men who are able to buy 320 acres of land, and to fence and cultivate 80 or 100 acres, could, if they purchased but 80 acres and farmed but 30 of it, have built a barn sufficiently large, and yet have made as much money as now.

And in 10 years, they could have owned more land (even if they did not enter it at government price) than they will at the end of that time by the present system of farming."
