To Apply:

To apply, please send your resume and cover letter to Carroll.Carly@epa.gov. Students selected as volunteers will need to provide proof of enrollment or admittance to their college or university. Descriptions of each office in OPEEE are listed below. Please indicate your preferred office preference in your cover letter.

Office of Environmental Education (OEE)

Interns will assist with environmental education programs like the national grants program, national student and teacher award programs, the National Environmental Education Advisory Council (NEEAC), and the Environmental Education Training Program. Interns will also assist with the development and organization of national environmental education resources, federal and public engagement initiatives. For more information visit: <http://www2.epa.gov/education>

Office of Public Engagement (OPE)

Interns will assist with OPE's mission to enhance EPA's public image to reflect a more proactive, inclusive and responsive agency by expanding the conversation on environmentalism with new and existing stakeholders. As an intern in OPE, you will provide support to staff to formulate engagement strategies that elevate EPA and the Administrator's public image. You will be tasked with organizing and scheduling outreach opportunities with stakeholders, helping research new programs and initiatives, and messaging to stakeholders. The focus is to engage non-traditional stakeholders such as: Hispanic and African American communities, youth groups, faith based organizations, sportsmen & women, and others to join their voices in the conversation around our changing climate.
