Guide to Essential Fish Habitat Designations in the Northeastern United States

For a location that is located in marine waters: (Scroll Down To View Image Map)

To view a table of the EFH designations for a specific area, point to the area in which you are interested (a "hand" should appear) and click once. If the location falls along the border of two squares on the map, you may need to select more than one square and/or consult a nautical chart to obtain the precise coordinates of latitude and longitude. After viewing a table, click on the "back" button of your web browser to return to this page.

For a location that is located in an estuary, bay, river, or outside of the 10 minute square grids, Click here.
