

CEQ-EPA Presidential Innovation Award for Environmental Educators Application

Program History

The Presidential Innovation Award for Environmental Educators (PIAEE) recognizes outstanding kindergarten through grade 12 teachers who employ innovative approaches to environmental education and use the environment as a context for learning for their students. Up to two teachers from each of EPA's 10 regions, from different states, will be selected for this award. Since the passage of the 1990 National Environmental Education Act, the White House Council on Environmental Quality (CEQ), in partnership with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), administers this award to nationally honor, support and encourage educators who incorporate environmental education in their classrooms and teaching methods.

Eligibility

- Teach K-12 on a full-time basis in a public school that is operated by a local education agency¹, including schools funded by the Bureau of Indian Affairs;
- Hold a current teaching license from the state (or valid reciprocity from the state for a license from another state);
- Have a minimum of 5 years of K-12 teaching experience, including at least 3 years of teaching environmental education;
- Anticipate a classroom teaching assignment involving environmental education for the upcoming school year;
- Be a citizen of the United States, its territories or possessions, or lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residency²; and
- Has not been a recipient of this award in the past 5 years.

Application Requirements:

There are 5 sections to the application:

Section 1: General Information about the teacher

Teachers will provide contact information, perform an eligibility review, and provide a summary of teaching experience.

¹ For this program, a local education agency is one as defined by section 198 of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (now codified at 20 U.S.C. 7801(26)).

² The U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services defines lawful permanent residency as any person not a citizen of the United States who is residing in the United States under legally recognized and lawfully recorded permanent residence as an immigrant, also known as “Permanent Resident Alien,” “Resident Alien Permit Holder,” and “Green Card Holder.”

Section 2: Essays

Applicants are required to respond to essay questions addressing the selection criteria: Innovation, Achievement, Service to the Community and Underserved Communities, Leadership, and Integration.

Section 3: Sample Teaching Materials

Applicants must include sample teaching materials that demonstrate the teacher's work with students.

Section 4: Letters of Support

Each application must include 3 signed letters of support from an administrator at the teacher's school, a fellow teacher, and a past or current student.

Section 5: Final Checklist

Applicants must complete a final checklist, certifying that they have completed all required sections of the applications.

Selection Criteria

Teachers must have an outstanding record of teaching. Each of the factors below is meant to illustrate the applicant's record of teaching. Applicants will be judged by the responses to the questions in each of these five factors, as well as their sample teaching materials and letters of support.

Innovation (25 points)

- A. How does the teacher make learning about the environment unique, fun and exciting for his or her students? For example, does the teacher use experiential or place-based learning in ways that go above and beyond the practices of other teachers? Please be sure to demonstrate or exemplify this in the sample teaching materials.
- B. How does the teacher tailor his/her teaching methods to the needs of his/her student population?
- C. How does the teacher use any of the following topics as a basis to teach about environmental sustainability: a healthy school environment; environmentally friendly agriculture practices; human contributions to ocean litter and how to prevent it; school gardens; recycling; or STEM education?

Achievement (15 points)

- A. What positive changes has the teacher seen in student academic achievement and behavior or attitude because of participation in the teacher's environmental education program?

Service to the Community and Underserved Populations (20 points)

Many schools are part of communities that include minority, indigenous, low-income and underserved populations. Communities and their schools may also be in places that are heavily impacted by environmental pollution. While your community and school may or may not be considered one that is impacted, please answer the following.

- A. How does the teacher extend environmental education beyond the classroom? Are the teacher's students participating beyond the classroom in environmental, conservation, or earth science extracurricular or community-based projects and activities?
- B. How does the teacher inspire the surrounding community, including parents/guardians and members of the community to participate in environmental education activities?

Leadership (15 points)

- A. How does the teacher serve as a model for students and teachers with his/her approaches to teaching about the environment?

Integration (10 points)

- A. How does the teacher help to integrate environmental education into the broader school curriculum or coordinate environmental education with other teachers and academic subjects?

Sample Teaching Materials (10 points)

Letters of Support (5 points)

Winners and Honorable Mentions

- Winners will receive a Presidential award plaque and up to $2,500 to be used to further their professional development in environmental education.
- Award winners' local education agencies will also receive up to $2,500 to fund environmental activities and programs. These funds cannot be used for construction costs, general expenses, salaries, bonuses, or other administrative expenses.
- A congratulatory letter from a senior official from EPA and/or the White House.
- Honorable Mention recipients will receive certificates of recognition.

Application Section 3: Sample Teaching Materials

Sample teaching materials must be submitted separately as attachments to this application.

Content: Materials from one unit/curriculum or module that the teacher has taught. Indicate how these materials were used, and how the students responded to them.

Source(s): The materials may be original to the teacher or may be from an existing education curricula source. If existing education curricula or activities are submitted, the source of the materials must be documented.

Length: The total length of the sample teaching materials may not exceed 5 pages. A brief description of how the materials are used must be included. Teachers may include up to 5 pages of photos, which must be clearly labeled. Photos are optional. Web links to supporting materials, such as photos (5 pages or fewer) and sound and/or video recordings (10 minutes or fewer or total playing time) may also be provided but must be accompanied by a brief description of the project. Reviewers will not attempt to find online content for invalid hyperlinks, so please make sure they are active.

Sample Material Titles:

Please briefly list the titles of the materials that are included with this application in the space provided.

Sample Material Use and Student Response:

Please briefly indicate how these materials were used and how the students responded to them, within the space provided.

Application Section 4: Letters of Support

Each application must include a total of three signed letters of support. Letters must come from:

- An administrator from the teacher's school
- A fellow teacher
- A past or current student

Letters of support should not exceed one page and must include the following:

- Relationship to the teacher;
- Familiarity with the teacher and the work for which the teacher is being considered; and,
- Perspective on why the teacher's work is unique and innovative in the field of environmental education, and how the teacher might inspire others to use environmental education.

The letters must be submitted as attachments to the application. In the boxes below, identify the individuals who provided letters of support for this teacher.
