Hi Terry,
Thank you for reaching out with this opportunity. After careful consideration, we have decided to decline at this time.

Best,

Enesta,
I am communications director of the American Coal Council (www.americancoalcouncil.org) here in Washington. We are a national coal industry trade association and we publish a bi-annual magazine, "American Coal." In this publication we publish articles generated both in-house and by contributing sources. I'm writing to solicit a contribution from the EPA on the issue of grid reliability and safety for our upcoming issue. Our association CEO Betsy Monseu suggested I contact Bill Turenne, Jr. who heads up your Office of Strategic Communications. I have not been able to find a contact for him and I am reaching out to you for your assistance. I appreciate your help with this matter.

Yours,

Terry Headley
