

Revolving Loans Made by DMME

Energize Virginia, a revolving loan fund, was capitalized with $10.5 million in federal Recovery Act funds. Six loans were made between April and July 2012 and one loan made in December 2014 to competitively selected state and local government EE and RE project proposals bringing the total RLF loans to seven. Town of South Boston determined in June 2013 that its proposal to generate electricity from landfill gas was not feasible and returned the loan principal and interest.

Energize Virginia's loan payment totals as of January 31, 2015.
