

Jennifer Bowen, Division Director in EPA's National Center for Environmental Economics

Research Interests: Agency guidance on the use of economic tools; Benefit-cost analysis; Environmental justice analysis in rulemaking

Biography: Jennifer Bowen has been a member of the National Center for Environmental Economics at the U.S. EPA since 1993 and has been serving as the Division Director for the Research and Program Support Division in 2000. She provides economic and policy analysis expertise to support the Agency's development and use of economic information, including her focus on distributional and environmental justice considerations. She leads cross-agency efforts to respond to request for information on the Agency's use of benefit-cost analysis, including providing organizing materials and responding to the Office of Management and Budget's reports to Congress on the costs and benefits of federal regulations. Prior to joining the Agency, Jenny serves as a planning assistant in the West Central Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission (1991-1992), after which she was accepted into the Presidential Management Fellow program (1992-1994), serving as a Legislative Fellow in the U.S. Senate, Office of Senator Russell D. Feingold (1994) and policy analyst at the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (1992-1993) before completing her fellowship with the Agency. She has an MA in Public Policy from the LaFollette Institute of Public Affairs at the University of Wisconsin – Madison (1992).

E-mail: Bowen.Jennifer@epa.gov

Select EPA and Other Publications:

“Technical Guidance for Assessing Environmental Justice in Regulatory Analysis. Contributing author, EPA report, June 2016.

“An Analysis of the Impact of Multiple Environmental Goods on House Prices” (with Katherine A. Kiel). College of the Holy Cross Working Paper (#02-01), December 2002.

“Jointly Estimating the Prices of Environmental Goods: St. Louis as a Case Study” (with Katherine A. Kiel). College of the Holy Cross Working Paper (#01-07), January 2000.

“A Repeat Sales Analysis of the Impact of Multiple Environmental Goods on House Prices in St. Louis” (with Katherine A. Kiel). College of the Holy Cross Working Paper (#01-06), December 2000.

"Cost Savings From the Use of Market Incentives for Pollution Control," (with Albert McGartland, Robert Anderson and Alan Carlin), in Market-Based Approaches to Environmental Policy, Regulatory Innovations to the Fore, (Richard F. Kosobud and Jennifer M. Zimmerman, editors.), New York: Van Nostrand Reinhold, pp. 15-46, 1997.

Technology for a Sustainable Future. A Framework for Action. Contributing author, National Science and Technology Council report, 1994.

The GATT Uruguay Round Agreement: Report on Environmental Issues. Contributing author, USTR/EPA report, 1994.