Kysor//Warren joins EPA GreenChill Partnership to reduce refrigerant emissions

Columbus, Georgia, December 10, 2007 – Premier supplier of refrigeration equipment Kysor//Warren has become a founding partner with the EPA GreenChill Advanced Refrigeration Partnership. Kysor//Warren, in its 125th year has long been committed to giving its customers value and being an Environmental Leader in the industry. The EPA has partnered with the supermarket industry and its various equipment and chemical manufacturers to promote reduced emissions of ozone-depleting substances and green house gases, and increase refrigeration system energy efficiency. As a founding partner with GreenChill, Kysor//Warren has the opportunity to provide broad based solutions to pressing environmental issues. This is an opportunity for like-minded companies that want to help develop products, influence standards and benchmark best practices to transition to non-ozone depleting refrigerants, to reduce refrigerant emissions and to help its customers adopt alternative refrigeration technologies.

“We are proud to have Kysor Warren as a partner in our GreenChill Advanced Refrigeration Partnership,” says Julius Banks, Acting Branch Chief of EPA’s Alternatives & Emissions Reduction Branch. “Kysor Warren is committed to reducing the use of ozone-depleting substances in supermarket refrigeration equipment, which helps EPA help the ozone layer.” Current retail members include Food Lion, Giant Eagle, Hannaford Bros., Harris Teeter, Publix Super Markets and Whole Food Markets.

The refrigeration expertise of Kysor//Warren in the Food Retail industry will help its customers reduce energy consumption and harmful emissions while providing quality service. This partnership is one of the many initiatives of Kysor//Warren to do its part for the environment, as well as help its customers go green by offering more environmental friendly products with reduced refrigeration, and optimized equipment and systems to improve energy consumption and cost.
