Certification and Training for Applicators of Restricted Use Pesticides in Indian Country:

Because of the specific hazards associated with restricted use pesticides (RUPs), the Federal Insecticide, Rodenticide and Fungicide Act (FIFRA) requires any person who applies RUP to demonstrate his/her competency and be certified for the types of applications they intend to conduct. Competency is generally achieved by attending designated training or completing a specific self study program. Applicators then demonstrate competency by passing a certification exam. There are currently 3 options for ensuring that applicators in Indian country are trained and legally certified to apply RUPs (40 CFR Part 171). This year, the Region 9 Pesticides Office will conduct a pilot project with tribes that have pesticide cooperative agreements to determine which of the three regulatory options are preferable for their communities. In the future, we hope to work with all the tribes in the region where RUPs are used to ensure that applicators are properly trained and certified. For questions on the Certification and Training Program, contact Katy Wilcoxon at (415) 947-4205 or via e-mail at wilcoxen.katy@epa.gov.

EPA Seeks Information on Lead-Based Paint activities in Region IX Indian Country 1999-2010

In coordination with RTOC, EPA Region IX is gathering information on all lead-based paint activities conducted at Region IX tribes for the past 10+ years. EPA also seeks information from BIA, HUD and IHS. Information which EPA is seeking includes activities already completed, underway, or approved but not started. EPA specifically seeks the following information to prepare a "baseline inventory" of all lead-based paint activities conducted in Region IX Indian Country from 1999 to 2010: (1) outreach efforts on lead-based paint and lead's hazards; (2) childhood blood lead screening efforts; (3) evaluating lead-based paint conditions at tribal housing, child-occupied facilities or tribal buildings including dust sampling and soil sampling; and (4) remediating lead-based paint hazards at tribal housing, child-occupied facilities or tribal buildings including lead in soil remediation. EPA seeks information on all efforts (completed; underway; or approved) in Region IX Indian Country whether financed by grants/funding agreements with EPA, BIA, HUD, IHS or other federal departments; funded by tribal governments or tribally-owned entities; or funded by sources such as foundations or nonprofit groups. Please note that EPA is not seeking information related to any specific person's blood lead testing or lead hazard testing involving any specific person's individual housing. If you have information, regarding this baseline inventory for 1999-2010, please contact David Tomsovic, EPA Region IX Toxics Office, 415-972-3858 or email tomsovic.david@epa.gov.

EPA Releases First-Ever Baseline Study of U.S. Lakes

This draft study, which rated the condition of 56 percent of the lakes in the United States as good and the remainder as fair or poor, marked the first time EPA and its partners used a nationally consistent approach to survey the ecological and water quality of lakes. A total of 1,028 lakes were randomly sampled during 2007 by states, tribes and EPA. The survey included a comparison to a subset of lakes with wastewater impacts that were sampled in the 1970s. It finds that 75 percent show either improvements or no change in phosphorus levels. This suggests that the nation's investments in wastewater treatment and other pollution control activities are working despite population increases across the country. To view this study, go to: <http://www.epa.gov/lakessurvey>

Pesticide Endangered Species Bulletins for California:

In January, 2010, EPA Office of Pesticide Programs (OPP) completed draft Endangered Species Bulletins for 40 California counties. The bulletins were developed for the protection of Salmon and Steelhead in the states of California, Oregon, Idaho, and Washington and describe pesticide use limitations for pesticide products containing chlorpyrifos, diazinon or malathion. This year the Region 9 Pesticides Office will assist tribes with implementation of the pesticide use limitations in specific counties described in the bulletins. Once pesticide products with generic endangered species label statements are being used, the use limitations will be enforceable. If you would like a copy of the bulletin for your county or counties, contact Allen Demorest at 415-947-4214 or via e-mail at demorest.allen@epa.gov.

Expanding the Self Governance Model to Tribal Environmental Programs – the Swinomish “Indian Environmental Act”

– The Swinomish Indian Tribal Community is sponsoring a bill referred to as the Indian Environmental Act. The proposed bill supports applying the “Self Governance” model to environmental programs, as a proven model that recognizes the sovereignty of tribal nations and allows for continuous and flexible funding that meets the needs and priorities of Tribes. The Act supports a pilot project with a new funding source for 12 tribes and four to five consortia (north, south, east, west, Alaska), and supports Tribes working with EPA on a Nation-to-Nation basis to develop a self governed environmental program that would allow tribes, to combine funds from different agencies and programs to address tribal priorities in a sustainable manner. The anticipated outcome is to develop the new program within one year and begin implementation of the program nationally in year two. The effort is intended to be structured under EPA's competitive RFP process, and one grant is being sought for each region. To view the document to go:
